ORDER

This matter comes before the Court on Limelight Defendants' Motion to Dismiss Consolidated Class Action Complaint and Memorandum of Law in Support of Motion to Dismiss ("Mot. to Dismiss") (Doc. 79).

I. BACKGROUND

Limelight Networks, Inc. ("Limelight") is based in Tempe, Arizona, and provides high-performance content delivery network services for media companies and electronic content providers. Limelight was founded in June 2001, and on June 8, 2007, it conducted its IPO, selling 18.4 million shares of common stock at $15 per share pursuant to its June 7, 2007 prospectus in a firm commitment underwriting. The prospectus discussed revenue results for the quarter ended March 31, 2007, customer concentration levels, revenues from certain large customers, the issue of seasonal fluctuations, and various risks associated with the business. (Doc. 80, Decl. of Maureen Beyers in Supp. of Mot. to Dismiss ("Beyers Decl."), Ex. A.) Limelight issued a press release on August 9, 2007 discussing its second quarter results, and reported a second quarter GAAP loss of $0.23 per share and non-GAAP earnings of $0.00 per share. (Compl. at 17.) Limelight also reported that non-GAAP adjusted EBITDA for the second quarter was $4.4 million compared to $5.7 million for the

1 second quarter of 2006. (Compl. at 17.) The stock price declined from $14.80 on August
2 8, 2007 to $8.99 on August 9, 2007. (Compl. at 18.)

3 The Consolidated Class Action Complaint (the "Complaint") alleges violations of §§ 4 11, 12(a)(2), and 15 of the Securities Act of 1933. Limelight, Jeffrey W. Lunsford, Nathan
5 F. Raciborski, Michael W. Gordon, Fredric W. Harman, Mark A. Jung, Peter J. Perrone,
6 David C. Peterschmidt, Gary Valenzuela, and Matthew Hale (collectively "Limelight
7 Defendants") moved to dismiss the Complaint. Defendants Goldman, Sachs & Co., Morgan
8 Stanley & Co. Inc., Jefferies & Company, Inc., Piper, Jaffray & Co. and Friedman, Billings, 9 Ramsey & Co., Inc. ("Underwriter Defendants") join in Sections I.A-D and II.A of the 10 Motion to Dismiss, and seek dismissal with prejudice of Plaintiffs' §§ 11 and 12(a)(2) claims
11 against the Underwriter Defendants. The Underwriter Defendants also join in Sections I.A-D 12 and II of the Limelight Defendants' Reply Memorandum of Law in Support of Motion to 13 Dismiss ("Defendants' Reply") to the extent applicable to all named Defendants. Limelight 14 Defendants also request judicial notice of certain documents incorporated by reference into 15 the Complaint and excerpts from SEC filings (Docs. 81 and 91.)

16 II. LEGAL STANDARDS AND ANALYSIS

17 A. Rule 12(b)(6) Motion to Dismiss

18 The Federal Rules of Civil Procedure require a "short and plain statement of the claim 19 showing that the pleader is entitled to relief." Fed. R. Civ. P. 8(a)(2); Gilligan v. Jamco Dev.
20 Corp., 108 F.3d 246, 248 (9th Cir. 1997). Thus, dismissal for insufficiency of a complaint
21 is proper if the complaint fails to state a claim on its face. Lucas v. Bechtel Corp., 633 F.2d 22 757, 759 (9th Cir. 1980). A Rule 12(b)(6) dismissal for failure to state a claim can be based 23 on either: (1) the lack of a cognizable legal theory; or (2) insufficient facts to support a 24 cognizable legal claim. Balistreri v. Pacifica Police Dep't, 901 F.2d 696, 699 (9th Cir.
25 1990); Robertson v. Dean Witter Reynolds, Inc., 749 F.2d 530, 534 (9th Cir. 1984).

26 In determining whether an asserted claim can be sustained, all allegations of material 27 fact are taken as true and construed in the light most favorable to the non-moving party.
28 Clegg v. Cult Awareness Network, 18 F.3d 752, 754 (9th Cir. 1994). As for the factual

1 allegations, the Supreme Court has explained that they “must be enough to raise a right to 2 relief above the speculative level.” Bell Atl. Corp. v. Twombly, 127 S. Ct. 1955, 1965 (2007).
3 In ruling on a motion to dismiss, the issue is not whether the plaintiff will ultimately prevail,
4 but whether the claimant is entitled to offer evidence to support the claims. Gilligan, 108
5 F.3d at 249.

6 B. Requests for Judicial Notice

7 Limelight Defendants request judicial notice of certain documents incorporated by 8 reference into the Complaint and excerpts from Limelight’s Form 10-Q filed on November 9 14, 2007 and Form 8-K and Exhibit 99.1 filed on February 19, 2008 with the Securities and 10 Exchange Commission (“SEC”). (Doc. 81, Limelight Defs.’ Request for Judicial Notice; 11 Doc. 80, Beyers Decl., Exs. A-H.) Limelight Defendants also request judicial notice of 12 excerpts from Limelight’s Forms 10-K filed on March 25, 2008 and May 14, 2008 with the 13 SEC. (Doc. 91, Limelight Defs.’ Request for Judicial Notice; Doc. 92, Beyers Decl., Exs.
14 A-B.)

15 Under Federal Rule of Evidence 201, a court “shall take judicial notice if requested
16 by a party and supplied with the necessary information.” Fed. R. Evid. 201(d). “A judicially
17 noticed fact must be one not subject to reasonable dispute in that it is either (1) generally
18 known within the territorial jurisdiction of the trial court or (2) capable of accurate and ready 19 determination by resort to sources whose accuracy cannot reasonably be questioned.” Fed.
20 R. Evid. 201(b).

21 “On considering a motion to dismiss, judicial notice of the full text of documents 22 referenced in a complaint, where the authenticity of those documents is not contested, is 23 proper under the doctrine of incorporation by reference.” No. 84 Employer-Teamster Joint 24 Council Pension Trust Fund v. Am. W. Holding Corp., 320 F.3d 920, 925 n.2 (9th Cir. 2003).
25 Because the Complaint references the prospectus and the authenticity of the document is not 26 in dispute, the Court takes judicial notice of the full text of this document. In addition, on 27 a motion to dismiss the court “may take judicial notice of matters of public record outside 28 the pleadings.” MGIC Indem. Corp. v. Weisman, 803 F.2d 500, 504 (9th Cir. 1986). It is

1 appropriate for the Court to take judicial notice of SEC filings because they are capable of 2 accurate and ready determination by resort to sources whose accuracy cannot reasonably be
3 questioned. See In re White Elec. Designs Corp. Sec. Litig., 416 F. Supp. 2d 754, 760 (D.
4 Ariz. 2006). Therefore, the Court takes judicial notice of the above SEC filings.

5 The Court will treat Limelight Defendants' Motion as a motion to dismiss despite their 6 submission of evidence outside the pleadings. Rule 12(b) provides that when matters outside 7 the complaint are considered by the court on a motion to dismiss, the motion should be 8 treated as one for summary judgment. Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b); San Pedro Hotel Co., Inc. v.
9 City of L.A., 159 F.3d 470, 477 (9th Cir. 1998). Thus, a party's submission of extrinsic
10 evidence and the Court's consideration of this evidence would ordinarily require this Court
11 to convert a motion to dismiss into one for summary judgment. Anderson v. Angelone, 86
12 F.3d 932, 934 (9th Cir. 1996). However, the conversion of a motion to dismiss is not 13 required when the attached materials are the sort of which the Court may take judicial notice.
14 Barron v. Reich, 13 F.3d 1370, 1377 (9th Cir. 1994). Furthermore, "on a motion to dismiss
15 a court may properly look beyond the complaint to matters of public record and doing so 16 does not convert a Rule 12(b)(6) motion to one for summary judgment." Mack v. S. Bay Beer
17 Distribs., Inc., 798 F.2d 1279, 1282 (9th Cir. 1986) (citing Phillips v. Bureau of Prisons, 591 18 F.2d 966, 969 (D.C. Cir. 1979)), abrogated on other grounds by Astoria Fed. Sav. & Loan
19 Ass'n v. Solimino, 501 U.S. 104 (1991). Therefore, the Court will not convert Defendants'
20 Motion to Dismiss into a motion for summary judgment based on taking judicial notice of 21 the above documents.

22 C. Section 11

23 Defendants argue that Plaintiffs have failed to allege any material omissions under § 24 11 of the Securities Act of 1933. Section 11 creates a private remedy for a purchaser of a 25 security when a registration statement "contained an untrue statement of a material fact or 26 omitted to state a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the 27 statements therein not misleading." 15 U.S.C. § 77k(a) (1998). "The plaintiff in a § 11 28 claim must demonstrate (1) that the registration statement contained an omission or misrepresentation, and (2) that the omission or misrepresentation was material, that is, it would have misled a reasonable investor about the nature of his or her investment.”” In re Stac Elecs. Sec. Litig., 89 F.3d 1399, 1403-04 (9th Cir. 1996) (quoting Kaplan v. Rose, 49 F.3d 1363, 1371 (9th Cir. 1994)). ““No scienter is required for liability under § 11; defendants will be liable for innocent or negligent material misstatements or omissions.”” Id. at 1404.¹

Defendants argue that Plaintiffs have failed to allege any material omissions under § 11. Plaintiffs allege that the prospectus failed to disclose four pieces of information, and that these omissions were material and misleading.

1. Alleged Failure to Disclose the Loss of Revenue from MySpace.com

Plaintiffs allege that the prospectus was misleading because it failed to disclose the loss of business with MySpace.com. The prospectus stated that:

CDN Consulting, which acted as a reseller of our services primarily to MySpace.com, represented approximately 21% of our total revenue for [2006]. In the quarter ended March 31, 2007, sales to this reseller declined to approximately 2% of our revenue, and prospectively, we do not expect sales to this reseller to be at levels comparable to those achieved in 2006.

(Doc. 80, Beyers Decl., Ex. A at 34.) The prospectus also stated that:

In addition to selling to our direct customers, we maintain relationships with a number of resellers that purchase our services and charge a mark-up to their end customers. Revenue generated from sales to direct and reseller customers accounted for approximately 79% and 21% of our revenue in 2006 and approximately 98% and 2% of our revenue in the quarter ended March 31, 2007, respectively.

¹ The particularity requirements of Rule 9(b) apply to claims brought under § 11 when they are “grounded in fraud” rather than negligence. Stac Elecs., 89 F.3d at 1404-05. Where a plaintiff alleges a “unified course of fraudulent conduct and rel[ies] entirely on that course of conduct as the basis of a claim,” the claim is said to be grounded in fraud. Vess v. Ciba-Geigy Corp. USA, 317 F.3d 1097, 1103 (9th Cir. 2003). Plaintiffs contend that they have not alleged fraud, and base their § 11 claim on the Security Act’s strict liability standards. (Compl. at 20.) Defendants argue that the Court need not reach the issue of whether Rule 9(b)’s heightened pleading standards apply, because the Complaint fails to state a claim and must be dismissed under Rule 12(b)(6). The Court agrees, and need not reach the issue of whether Plaintiffs’ claim under § 11 is grounded in fraud or negligence.

1 (Doc. 80, Beyers Decl., Ex. A at 34.) Plaintiffs argue that “investors would have been 2 justified in believing that Limelight was simply no longer going through a costly reseller, and
3 was now dealing with MySpace.com directly.” (Pls.’ Opp’n to Defs.’ Mot. to Dismiss (“Pls.’
4 Opp’n”) at 12.)

5 However, there is nothing in the prospectus to indicate that MySpace.com was now
6 buying services directly from Limelight rather than doing business through the reseller CDN
7 Consulting. In addition, the prospectus does not give investors any reason to believe that the 8 decline in business to resellers was associated with a corresponding increase in direct
9 business. The decline in reseller business resulted in a change in the proportions of revenue
10 derived from direct or reseller customers (from 79%/21% to 98%/2%), but this does not 11 necessarily imply an increase in direct business. The prospectus clearly states that business
12 to CDN Consulting, which resold services primarily to MySpace.com, had declined
13 precipitously, and that Defendants did not expect to recover this business in the future.
14 These statements are not misleading, and do not constitute material omissions under § 11.

15 2. Alleged Failure to Disclose that Microsoft Decided to Take its Content
16 Delivery Business In-House

17 The prospectus stated that “[t]wo customers, Microsoft and Disney, each accounted
18 for more than 10% of our revenue in the quarter ended March 31, 2007.” (Doc. 80, Beyers
19 Decl., Ex. A at 71.) Plaintiffs allege that this statement was materially false and misleading 20 because it failed to disclose that Microsoft had informed Limelight that it would take its 21 content delivery business in-house, and that Limelight failed to disclose that the relationship
22 with Microsoft would change from service delivery to consulting. (Compl. at 16.) The 23 prospectus warned that “[w]e may lose customers if they elect to develop content delivery
24 solutions internally.” (Doc. 80, Beyers Decl., Ex. A at 9.) Defendants argue that there is no 25 duty to predict another company’s behavior or to speculate about revenue projections in the 26 future. Stac Elecs., 89 F.3d at 1406-07 (noting that “a company is not required to forecast 27 future events”) (citing In re Worlds of Wonder Sec. Litig., 35 F.3d 1407, 1420 (9th Cir.
28 1994)). Defendants also argue that the “accurate reporting of historical data does not create

1 a misleading impression of future growth.” In re Verifone Sec. Litig., 784 F. Supp. 1471,
2 1486 (N.D. Cal. 1992), aff’d 11 F.3d 865 (9th Cir. 1993). Plaintiffs argue that disclosing the 3 risk of a future event occurring is not the same as disclosing that an event has already 4 occurred.

5 However, Plaintiffs have failed to allege facts showing that Limelight’s relationship
6 with Microsoft changed from content delivery services to consulting, or that Limelight
7 ceased providing content delivery services to Microsoft. Plaintiffs submitted the contract
8 between Microsoft and Limelight dated March 1, 2007 as an Exhibit, and the contract makes 9 clear that Limelight would continue to provide content delivery services to Microsoft after 10 the quarter ended March 31, 2007. (Doc. 89, Declaration of Michael W. Stocker in Supp.
11 of Pls.’ Opp’n, Ex. A at 57, 72.) The Court “need not . . . accept as true allegations that 12 contradict matters properly subject to judicial notice or by exhibit.” Sprewell v. Golden State
13 Warriors, 266 F.3d 979, 988 (9th Cir. 2001). Plaintiffs have not alleged facts showing that 14 the relationship between Limelight and Microsoft changed in a way that would make the 15 prospectus statement materially misleading. Plaintiffs have not alleged that the prospectus 16 statement was false, and have not shown how the statement was misleading.

17 3. Alleged Failure to Disclose that No Customer Accounted for More than 18 10% of Revenue

19 The prospectus stated that “[t]wo customers, Microsoft and Disney, each accounted
20 for more than 10% of our revenue in the quarter ended March 31, 2007.” (Doc. 80, Beyers
21 Decl., Ex. A at 71.) The prospectus also noted that “[w]e anticipate customer concentration 22 levels will decline compared to prior years as our customer base continues to grow and 23 diversify.” (Doc. 80, Beyers Decl., Ex. A at 34.) Plaintiffs allege that the prospectus was 24 materially misleading in stating that any customer made up more than 10% of Limelight’s
25 business, because in the six-month period preceding the IPO, there was no customer that 26 accounted for more than 10% of revenue. (Compl. at 16.) However, the statement addressed 27 the quarter ended March 31, 2007, and did not discuss the six-month period preceding the 28 IPO. Plaintiffs have not alleged that the statement is false, and, as discussed above, there is

1 no duty to predict future revenue projections. Stac Elecs., 89 F.3d at 1406-07. In addition,
2 the accurate reporting of customer concentration for the quarter ended March 31, 2007 did
3 not create a misleading impression of future growth, and did not imply anything about 4 customer concentration levels after the first quarter. See In re Verifone Sec. Litig., 784 F.
5 Supp. at 1486. In fact, the prospectus was forthright about the expectation that customer
6 concentration levels would decline after the quarter ended March 31, 2007. Plaintiffs argue 7 that Defendants “should have known that the two companies identified in the Prospectus as 8 representing 10% of the Company’s revenues, each, had already lost that status” at the time
9 the prospectus was issued. (Pls.’ Opp’n at 17.) However, Plaintiffs have failed to show that 10 the accurate statement regarding the quarter ended March 31, 2007, together with the 11 warning that customer concentration levels were expected to drop after that quarter, was 12 materially misleading.

13 4. Alleged Failure to Disclose that Seasonality Affected Limelight’s Revenue

14 The prospectus stated that “[t]o date, we have not identified any seasonal fluctuations
15 in our quarterly results. However, our rapid revenue growth may have overshadowed any 16 impact of seasonality.” (Doc. 80, Beyers Decl., Ex. A at 55.) Plaintiffs allege that this 17 statement was false and misleading because the network demands placed by media customers
18 were affected by seasonal changes in television programming, and that these customer orders
19 declined in May. (Compl. at 16.) The statement refers to the quarterly results, which would 20 not include May, but Plaintiffs allege that Limelight should have been aware of this drop 21 after the end of the first quarter because its core customers only had minimum commitment
22 levels, had renegotiated monthly minimum usage levels, and were not charged for excess
23 usage. (Compl. at 17.) Plaintiffs allege that in a conference call on August 9, 2007,
24 Defendant Lunsford acknowledged that revenues were subject to the seasonality that media
25 companies experience after the television season ends in May. (Compl. at 18.)

26 The prospectus explains that “customer agreements often provide for minimum 27 commitments that are often significantly below our customers’ historic usage levels” and that 28 “customers often negotiate revised monthly minimum usage levels.” (Doc. 80, Beyers Decl.,

Ex. A at 12, 36.) However, the manner in which the customers negotiated and paid for Limelight's services does not show that Limelight knew that seasonal fluctuations had already occurred at the time the prospectus was issued. Plaintiffs do not allege that Limelight failed to disclose a known trend, or that Limelight had in fact identified seasonal fluctuations in the quarterly results. Plaintiffs only allege that Limelight should have identified seasonal fluctuations in May and disclosed them in the prospectus.

Plaintiffs have failed to explain why Limelight should have known in early June that seasonal fluctuations in revenue had occurred in late May, given the company's history of steady revenue growth in prior years. The fact that customers purchased services based on monthly minimum usage levels does not necessarily indicate that seasonal fluctuations had occurred. Plaintiffs have failed to allege that the prospectus statement was materially false or misleading, because they have not alleged that Limelight had identified any seasonal fluctuations in quarterly results or knew that seasonal fluctuations had occurred. For the reasons discussed above, Plaintiffs have failed to allege any material omissions under § 11. Because it is possible that Plaintiffs could cure the deficiencies in the Complaint by amendment, their § 11 claim is dismissed with leave to amend.

D. Section 12(a)(2)

Section 12(a)(2) of the Securities Act of 1933 provides that any person who:

(2) offers or sells a security (whether or not exempted by the provisions of section 77c of this title, other than paragraphs (2) and (14) of subsection (a) of said section), by the use of any means or instruments of transportation or communication in interstate commerce or of the mails, by means of a prospectus or oral communication, which includes an untrue statement of a material fact or omits to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading (the purchaser not knowing of such untruth or omission), and who shall not sustain the burden of proof that he did not know, and in the exercise of reasonable care could not have known, of such untruth or omission, shall be liable, subject to subsection (b) of this section, to the person purchasing such security from him, who may sue either at law or in equity in any court of competent jurisdiction, to recover the consideration paid for such security with interest thereon, less the amount of any income received thereon, upon the tender of such security, or for damages if he no longer owns the security.

1 15 U.S.C. § 771(a)(2). The United States Supreme Court has made clear that this provision 2 governs only initial public offerings, and reaches communications made in connection with 3 public offers by an issuer or its controlling shareholders, but does not extend to secondary
4 market transactions. Gustafson v. Alloyd Co., Inc., 513 U.S. 561, 570-73 (1995).

5 Defendants argue that Plaintiffs have failed to allege that they purchased their shares
6 directly in the initial distribution from the underwriters on June 8, 2007, or that they 7 purchased at the offering price of $15 per share. Plaintiffs concede that the named Plaintiffs
8 did not buy their shares from the underwriters in the initial distribution at the offering price,
9 but urge the Court to allow the claim to continue, and to determine at the class certification
10 stage whether a subclass of plaintiffs, who do not include any of the named Plaintiffs, would 11 have standing to pursue this claim. (Tr. of Mot. Hr'g 22:5-24, June 16, 2008.) However, "if 12 none of the named plaintiffs purporting to represent a class establishes the requisite of a case
13 or controversy with the defendants, none may seek relief on behalf of himself or any other 14 member of the class." Lierboe v. State Farm Mut. Auto. Ins. Co., 350 F.3d 1018, 1022 (9th 15 Cir. 2003) (quoting O'Shea v. Littleton, 414 U.S. 488, 494 (1974)). Therefore, the claim
16 brought pursuant to § 12 must be dismissed. Because the deficiencies of the claim cannot 17 be cured by amendment, the claim is dismissed with prejudice.²

18 E. Section 15

19 Defendants argue that Plaintiffs' claim under Section 15 of the Securities Act must 20 be dismissed because Plaintiffs have failed to allege a primary violation of the securities 21 laws, and because Plaintiffs have failed to allege facts demonstrating that each of the 22 Defendants had control over Limelight. Section 15 of the Securities Act provides that:

23 Every person who, by or through stock ownership, agency, or 24 otherwise, or who, pursuant to or in connection with an agreement or understanding with one or more other persons by or through stock

25
26 ² Because the Court concludes that the named Plaintiffs lack standing to bring a claim
27 under § 12, the Court does not reach Defendants' argument that Defendant Rinehart should 28 be dismissed because Plaintiffs failed to allege that he participated in preparing the prospectus.

ownership, agency, or otherwise, controls any person liable under sections 77k or 77l of this title, shall also be liable jointly and severally with and to the same extent as such controlled person to any person to whom such controlled person is liable, unless the controlling person had no knowledge of or reasonable ground to believe in the existence of the facts by reason of which the liability of the controlled person is alleged to exist.

15 U.S.C. § 77o. This provision makes a controlling person liable for the § 11 or § 12 liability of a controlled person. Because Plaintiffs have failed to state a claim for violations of §§ 11 and 12 of the Securities Act, Plaintiffs have also failed to state a claim under the control person provision in § 15. The Court does not reach the issue of whether Plaintiffs have alleged facts demonstrating that each of the Defendants had control over Limelight so as to satisfy § 15's requirements. Should Plaintiffs amend their Complaint to state a claim under § 11, it is possible that Plaintiffs could also amend their § 15 claim to state a claim for control person liability. Therefore, this claim is dismissed with leave to amend.

IT IS ORDERED granting Limelight Defendants' Requests for Judicial Notice (Docs. 81 and 91).

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED granting Limelight Defendants' Motion to Dismiss Consolidated Class Action Complaint (Doc. 79).

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED dismissing with prejudice Plaintiffs' claim for violation of §12(a)(2) of the Securities Act of 1933, and dismissing with leave to amend within 15 days of the date of this order the claims for violation of §§ 11 and 15 of the Securities Act of 1933.

DATED this 7th day of August, 2008.

Abraham, Fruchter & Twersky, LLP Files Class Lawsuit against Pzena Asset Management, Inc.

Wednesday November 21, 4:13 pm ET

NEW YORK--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Abraham, Fruchter & Twersky, LLP commenced a class action lawsuit in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York (Case No. 07-10524) on behalf of a class (the "Class") of all persons who purchased or acquired securities of Pzena Asset Management, Inc. ("Pzena" or the "Company") (NYSE: PZN - News) in the Company's initial public offering ("IPO") which commenced on October 24, 2007. The claims asserted arise under Section 11 of the Securities Act of 1933, 15 U.S.C. §77k, and have been asserted against Pzena and Richard C. Pzena, the Company's Chief Executive Officer.

The complaint alleges that Defendants made materially misleading statements and otherwise failed to disclose a pattern of net redemptions in the largest mutual fund advised by Pzena, which existed at the time of the IPO. The subsequent disclosure of these facts three weeks later resulted in the price of the Company's common stock declining, causing Plaintiff and the other members of the Class to suffer damages.

If you purchased or otherwise acquired Pzena common stock you may, no later than January 22, 2008 request that the Court appoint you as lead plaintiff. A lead plaintiff is a representative party that acts on behalf of other class members in directing the litigation. In order to be appointed lead plaintiff, you must meet certain legal requirements, including the Court's determination that the class member's claim is typical of the claims of other class members, and that the class member will adequately represent the class. Under certain circumstances, one or more class members may together serve as "lead plaintiffs."

The attorneys at Abraham, Fruchter & Twersky, LLP have extensive experience in securities class action cases, and the firm is ranked among the top class action law firms in terms of recoveries achieved by the most recent survey of class action law firms conducted by Institutional Shareholder Services. If you would like to discuss this action or if you have any questions concerning this Notice or your rights as a potential class member or lead plaintiff, you may contact: Jeffrey Abraham, Esq. or Larry Levit, Esq. of Abraham, Fruchter & Twersky, LLP, One Penn Plaza, Suite 2805, New York, New York 10119, by telephone at _____, by facsimile at (212) 279-3655, or by e-mail at jabraham@aftlaw.com or llevit@aftlaw.com.

COHEN MILSTEIN
HAUSFELD & TOLL^{PC}

For decades, Cohen, Milstein, Hausfeld & Toll, P.L.L.C. has represented individuals, small businesses, institutional investors, and employees in many of the major class action cases litigated in the United States for violations of the antitrust, securities, environmental, consumer protection, civil rights/discrimination, ERISA and human rights laws. Cohen Milstein is also at the forefront of numerous innovative legal actions that are expanding the quality and availability of legal recourse for aggrieved individuals and businesses both domestic and international. Over its history, Cohen Milstein has obtained many landmark judgments and settlements for individuals and businesses in the United States and abroad. The firm's most significant past cases include:

- In re Vitamins Antitrust Litigation, MDL No. 1285 (D.D.C.). Cohen Milstein served as co-lead counsel for two certified classes of businesses that directly purchased bulk vitamins and were overcharged as a result of a ten year global price-fixing and market allocation conspiracy. Chief Judge Hogan approved four major settlements between certain vitamin defendants and Class Plaintiffs, including a landmark partial settlement of $1.1 billion. In a later trial before Chief Judge Hogan concerning four Class Plaintiffs' remaining unsettled Vitamin B4 (choline chloride) claims, a federal jury in Washington unanimously found Japan's second largest trading company, Mitsui & Co., Ltd., its wholly-owned U.S. subsidiary Mitsui & Co. (U.S.A.), Inc., DuCoa, LP, a choline chloride manufacturer based in Highland, Illinois, and DuCoa's general partner, DCV, Inc. liable for participating in the conspiracy and ordered them to pay $49,539,234, which is trebled to $148,617,702 under the federal antitrust laws. The case was subsequently settled against those defendants.
- Dukes v. Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., No. C-01-2252 (N.D. Cal.). Cohen Milstein is one of the co-lead counsel in this discrimination case. In June 2004, U.S. District Court Judge Martin Jenkins ruled that six current and former Wal-Mart employees from California may represent all female employees of Wal-Mart who worked at its U.S. stores anytime after December 26, 1998 in a nationwide sex discrimination class action lawsuit (appeal pending). As the largest civil rights class action ever certified against a private employer, the Judge described the case as "historic in nature, dwarfing other employment discrimination cases that came before it." The action charges that Wal-Mart discriminates against its female retail employees in pay and promotions. The class in this case includes more than 1.5 million current and former female employees of Wal-Mart retail stores in America, including Wal-Mart discount stores, super centers, neighborhood stores, and Sam's Clubs.
- In re Lucent Technologies Securities Litigation, Civ. Action No. 00-621 (JAP) (D.N.J.). A settlement in this massive securities fraud class action was reached in late March 2003. The class portion of the settlement amounts to over $500 million in cash, stock and warrants and ranks as the second largest securities class action settlement ever completed. Cohen Milstein represented one of the co-lead plaintiffs in this action, a private mutual fund.
- Nate Pease, et al. v. Jasper Wyman & Son, Inc., et al., Civil Action No. 00-015 (Knox County Superior Court, Me.). In 2004, a state court jury from Maine found three blueberry processing companies liable for participating in a four-year price-fixing and non-solicitation conspiracy that artificially lowered the prices defendants paid to approximately 800 growers for wild blueberries. The jury ordered defendants Cherryfield Foods, Inc., Jasper Wyman & Son, Inc., and Allen's Blueberry Freezer, Inc. to pay $18.68 million in damages, the amount which the growers would have been paid absent the defendants' conspiracy. After a mandatory trebling of this damage figure under Maine antitrust law, the total amount of the verdict for the plaintiffs is just over $56 million. The Firm served as co-lead counsel.

COHEN MILSTEIN
HAUSFELD & TOLL

- In re StarLink Corn Products, Liability Litigation, MDL No. 1403. (N.D. Ill.). Cohen Milstein successfully represented U.S. corn farmers in a national class action against Aventis CropScience USA Holding and Garst Seed Company, the manufacturer and primary distributor of StarLink corn seeds. StarLink is a genetically modified corn variety that the United States government permitted for sale as animal feed and for industrial purposes, but never approved for human consumption. However, StarLink was found in corn products sold in grocery stores across the country and was traced to widespread contamination of the U.S. commodity corn supply. The Firm, as co-lead counsel, achieved a final settlement providing more than $110 million for U.S. corn farmers, which was approved by a federal district court in April 2003. This settlement was the first successful resolution of tort claims brought by farmers against the manufacturers of genetically modified seeds.

- In re Diet Drug Litigation (Fen-Phen), MDL No. 1203 (E.D. Pa.). As a member of the Plaintiffs' Management Committee and Sub-Class Counsel, Cohen Milstein played a major part in the success of the Fen-Phen diet drug litigation and settlement (In re: Diet Drugs (Phentermine, Fenfluramine, Dexfenfluramine) Products Liability Litigation, MDL 1203). CMHT and other plaintiffs' counsel achieved the largest settlement ever obtained in a mass tort case - $3.75 billion - on behalf of millions of U.S. consumers who used Pondimin (fenfluramine) or Redux (dexfenfluramine), either alone or in combination with phentermine, diet drugs that are associated with heart valve damage.

- Snyder v. Nationwide Mutual Insurance Company, No. 97/0633 (Sup. Ct. N.Y. Onondaga Cty.). Cohen Milstein served as one of plaintiffs' principal counsel in this case on behalf of persons who held life insurance policies issued by Nationwide through its captive agency force. The action alleged consumer fraud and misrepresentations. Plaintiffs obtained a settlement valued at more than $85 million. The judge praised the efforts of Cohen Milstein and its co-counsel for having done "a very, very good job for all the people." He complimented "not only the manner" in which the result was arrived at, but also the "time ... in which it was done."

- Oncology & Radiation Associates, P.A. v. Bristol Myers Squibb Co., et al., No. 1:01CV02313 (D.D.C.). Cohen Milstein has been co-lead counsel in this case since its inception in 2001. Plaintiffs alleged that Bristol-Myers Squibb unlawfully monopolized the United States market for paclitaxel, a cancer drug discovered and developed by the United States government, which Bristol sells under the brand name Taxol. Bristol's scheme included a conspiracy with American BioScience, Inc., a generic manufacturer, to block generic competition. Cohen, Milstein's investigation and prosecution of this litigation on behalf of direct purchasers of Taxol led to a settlement of $65,815,000 that was finally approved by U.S. District Judge Emmet G. Sullivan on August 14, 2003 and preceded numerous Taxol-related litigations brought by the Federal Trade Commission and State Attorneys General offices.

COHEN MILSTEIN
HAUSFELD & TOLL^{PLC}

- Kruman v. Christie's International PLC, et al., Docket No. 01-7309. A $40 million settlement on behalf of all persons who bought or sold items through Christie's or Sotheby's auction houses in non-internet actions was approved in this action. Cohen Milstein served as one of three leading counsel on behalf of foreign plaintiffs. The Court noted that approval of the settlement was particularly appropriate, given the significant obstacles that faced plaintiffs and plaintiffs' counsel in the litigation. The settlement marked the first time that claims on behalf of foreign plaintiffs under U.S. antitrust laws have been resolved in a U.S. court, a milestone in U.S. antitrust jurisprudence.
- In re Infant Formula Consumer Antitrust Litigation (multiple state courts). Cohen Milstein instituted price-fixing cases on behalf of indirect-purchasers in 17 states under state antitrust laws against three companies who conspired to drive up the price of infant formula. The cases resulted in settlements of $64 million for purchasers of infant formula.
- Domestic Air Transportation Antitrust Litigation (N.D. Ga.) Plaintiffs alleged a conspiracy among major airlines to set prices. In one of the largest consumer class actions ever brought to a successful conclusion, Cohen Milstein was one of the lead counsel and obtained a settlement of travel discounts and cash totaling $458 million for the class of individuals and businesses.
- In re The Exxon Valdez Litigation, No. A89-095 Civ. (D. Ak.). The firm was selected from dozens of law firms around the country by federal and state judges in Alaska to serve as co-lead counsel for plaintiffs in the largest environmental case in United States history that resulted in a jury verdict of more than $5 billion (reversed and remanded for revised punitive damages award; further proceedings pending).
- Holocaust Litigation. In the historic Swiss Banks litigation, CMHT served, pro bono, as co-lead counsel for Holocaust survivors against the Swiss banks that collaborated with the Nazi regime during World War II by laundering stolen funds, jewelry and art treasures. Cohen Milstein obtained a $1.25 billion settlement, leading the presiding judge to call the firm's work "indispensable." See In re Holocaust Victim Assets Litig., Case No. CV 96-4849 (ERK) (MDG) (Memorandum of Chief Judge Korman dated July 26, 2002). The Firm was also a lead counsel in litigation by survivors of World War II-era forced and slave labor in litigation against the German companies that profited from using the labor of concentration camp inmates. This litigation, which resulted in an unprecedented settlement of $5.2 billion, was resolved by multinational negotiations involving the defendants, plaintiffs' counsel, and the governments of several countries for approximately two million claimants.

Cohen Milstein has contributed over 37,000 hours of time to human rights and pro bono cases since 1996. As an example, the Firm represented eight survivors and/or families of the victims of the September 11, 2001 attack on the Pentagon before the Federal compensation fund. Cohen Milstein has obtained a substantial recovery for each, including the highest recovery to date, $6.8 million, for an injured individual.

COHEN MILSTEIN
HAUSFELD & TOLL^{LLP}

- Roberts v. Texaco, Inc., 94-Civ. 2015 (S.D.N.Y.). Cohen Milstein represented a class of African-American employees in this landmark litigation that resulted in the then-largest race discrimination settlement in history ($176 million in cash, salary increases and equitable relief). The Court hailed the work of class counsel for, inter alia, “framing an imaginative settlement, that may well have important ameliorative impact not only at Texaco but in the corporate context as a whole ...”.
- Conanan v. Tanoue, No. 00-CV-3091 (ESH). Cohen Milstein represented African-American employees at the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) in this race discrimination suit, which settled for $14 million. The settlement provides the largest payment made in an employment discrimination class action based on race against a federal agency.
- Trotter v. Perdue Farms, Inc., Case No. 99-893 (RRM) (JJF) (MPT), D. Del. This suit on behalf of hourly workers at Perdue’s chicken processing facilities – which employ approximately 15,000 people – forced Perdue to pay employees for time spent “donning and doffing,” that is, obtaining, putting on, sanitizing and removing protective equipment that they must use both for their own safety and to comply with USDA regulations for the safety of the food supply. The suit alleged that Perdue’s practice of not counting donning and doffing time as hours worked violated the Fair Labor Standards Act and state law. In a separate settlement with the Department of Labor, Perdue agreed to change its pay practices. In addition, Perdue is required to issue retroactive credit under one of its retirement plans for “donning and doffing” work if the credit would improve employees’ or former employees’ eligibility for pension benefits. CMHT was co-lead counsel.

In addition, Cohen Milstein is an innovator in new areas of the law. Cohen Milstein was in the forefront of filing antitrust claims on behalf of indirect purchasers in 1993 and 1994, when it filed state-court actions in 18 states on behalf of indirect purchasers of infant formula. This was the first effort to systematically and simultaneously pursue treble damages claims on behalf of indirect-purchasing consumers in all states where antitrust laws permitted such claims. This approach, and variations of it, have since become the accepted model for pursuing antitrust damages on behalf of indirect-purchasing consumers. The Firm also has been in the forefront of the development of international antitrust theory and litigation of claims. As the global economy has produced worldwide conglomerates, so, too, has the nature of antitrust violations changed. For example, in Kruman v. Christie’s International PLC, et al. Docket No. 01-7309 and In re Bulk Vitamins Antitrust Litigation, MDL 1285 (D.D.C.), both the parties and the anticompetitive actions were played out on a world, rather than domestic, stage. The firm also represents and won Lead Plaintiff status for domestic and foreign investors in a foreign company’s bonds, in a PSLRA litigation being pursued in the United States, In re Parmalat Securities Litigation, Master Docket 04 Civ 0030 (LAK) (S.D.N.Y.). The Firm has affiliated offices around the world, in the United Kingdom, Italy, South Africa, Panama and Australia.

Herbert E. Milstein

Herbert E. Milstein began practicing law with Jerry S. Cohen in 1970 – the birth of the Firm. Mr. Milstein has been lead or principal counsel in many of the best known securities class actions litigated during the past 37 years. He is the senior member of the Securities Fraud/Investor Protection practice group.

Mr. Milstein is the author of numerous articles on topics involving class action litigations and the Federal securities laws. He recently authored an article on current issues involving federal securities laws. He also wrote a separate article in the book entitled The Burger Years. He is the author of a monograph on the attorney-client privilege.

As an adjunct Professor of Law at Georgetown University Law Center from 1980-1987, he taught complex litigation and continues to lecture on securities litigation and class actions at law schools and seminars sponsored by the American Bar Association, state bar associations, and continuing legal education organizations. From 1976-1980, Mr. Milstein served as Equity Receiver for National American Life Insurance Company, appointed by Judge Charles R. Richey, in SEC v. National Pacific Corp. For that work, the Chairman of the SEC said Mr. Milstein and the Firm served “with distinction.”

Formerly the President of the National Association of Securities and Commercial Law Attorneys (NASCAT), he also served as Treasurer of that organization for six years. He is a member of the American Law Institute, and a member and former Chairman of the Executive Council of the Securities Law Committee of the Federal Bar Association.

Mr. Milstein graduated from Harvard College (cum laude, 1958) and Columbia University School of Law (LL.B., 1961).

Mr. Milstein is admitted to practice in the District of Columbia and Massachusetts.

Michael D. Hausfeld

Michael Hausfeld, one of the country's top civil litigators, joined the Firm in 1971. He is the head of the Antitrust and International practice groups.

Mr. Hausfeld's career has included some of the largest and most successful class actions in the fields of human rights, discrimination and antitrust law. He long has had an abiding interest in social reform cases, and was among the first lawyers in the U.S. to assert that sexual harassment was a form of discrimination prohibited by Title VII; he successfully tried the first case establishing that principle. He represented Native Alaskans whose lives were affected by the 1989 Exxon Valdez oil spill; later, he negotiated a then-historic $176 million settlement from Texaco, Inc. in a racial-bias discrimination case.

COHEN MILSTEIN

In Friedman v. Union Bank of Switzerland, Mr. Hausfeld represented a class of victims of the Holocaust whose assets were wrongfully retained by private Swiss banks during and after World War II. The case raised novel issues of international banking law and international human rights law. He successfully represented the Republic of Poland, the Czech Republic, the Republic of Belarus, the Republic of Ukraine and the Russian Federation on issues of slave and forced labor for both Jewish and non-Jewish victims of Nazi persecution during World War II. He currently represents Jubilee 2000, Khulumani, and other NGOs in litigation involving abuses under apartheid law in South Africa, and is pursuing a RICO litigation against the tobacco industry with regard to the sale of and representations on "light" cigarettes.

Mr. Hausfeld has a long record of successful litigation in the antitrust field, on behalf of both individuals and classes, in cases involving monopolization, tie-ins, exclusive dealings and price fixing. He is or has been co-lead counsel in antitrust cases against manufacturers of genetically engineered foods, managed healthcare companies, bulk vitamin manufacturers, technology companies and international industrial cartels. He is actively involved in ongoing investigations into antitrust cases abroad, and was the only private lawyer permitted to attend and represent the interests of consumers worldwide in the 2003 closed hearings by the EU Commission in the Microsoft case.

Chief Judge Edward Korman (E.D.N.Y.), has noted that Mr. Hausfeld is one of the two "leading class action lawyers in the United States." He has been profiled in, and recognized by, many articles and surveys. Most recently, a Forbes magazine article reported on Mr. Hausfeld's work to establish an international alliance for the protection of consumers and investors worldwide. He was named one of thirty master negotiators in Done Deal: Insights from Interviews with the World's Best Negotiators, by Michael Benoliel, Ed.D. The Wall Street Journal profiled him and his practice, and he has been recognized by The National Law Journal as one of the "Top 100 Influential Lawyers in America." He has been described by one of the country's leading civil rights columnists as an "extremely penetrating lawyer", and by a colleague (in a Washington Post article) as a lawyer who "has a very inventive mind when it comes to litigation. He thinks of things most lawyers don't because they have originality pounded out of them in law school." The New York Times referred to Mr. Hausfeld as one of the nation's "most prominent antitrust lawyers," and Washingtonian Magazine has listed Mr. Hausfeld in several surveys as one of Washington's 75 best lawyers, saying he "consistently brings in the biggest judgments in the history of law" and that he is "a Washington lawyer determined to change the world -- and succeeding."

His most recent awards include the 2002 B'Nai Brith Humanitarian of the Year award; the Simon Wiesenthal Center Award for Distinguished Service; and the U.S. Department of Energy's Human Spirit Award, presented "in tribute to a person who understands the obligation to seek truth and act on it is not the burden of some, but of all; it is universal."

He is a frequent speaker on antitrust, human rights and international law, most recently participating in a panel discussion at the Spring Meeting of the ABA Section of Antitrust Law entitled "International Antitrust: Developments After Empagran and Intel" and at the School of Oriental and African Studies (SOAS) Annual Meeting in London entitled "Human Rights in An Integrated World: The Apartheid Reparations Litigation in the USA." He taught Masters Degree courses at Georgetown University Law Center from 1980 to 1987, and was an Adjunct Professor at the George Washington University Law School from 1996 to 1998 and now sits on its Board of Directors.

Mr. Hausfeld is a graduate of Brooklyn College, receiving a B.A. in Political Science with a minor in Russian History (cum laude, 1966) and the National Law Center, George Washington University (J.D., with honors, 1969). He was a member of the Order of the Coif and the Board of Editors for the George Washington Law Review (1968-69).

Mr. Hausfeld is admitted to practice in the District of Columbia.

Steven J. Toll

Steven J. Toll joined the Firm in 1979 and has been lead or principal counsel in some of the most highly publicized stock fraud cases over the past 28 years. He has been Managing Partner of the Firm since 1997 and is Head of the Securities Fraud/Investor Protection practice group. Mr. Toll was profiled in the February 1996 Washington Business Journal as one of five attorneys that stand out as the "cream of the crop" in the Washington D.C. legal community. In the Fall 2006 edition of LawDragon, he was named as one of the 500 Leading Lawyers in America.

In July 2005, Mr. Toll was lead trial counsel in one of the few securities class actions to go to trial involving Globalstar, a satellite manufacturer. Mr. Toll successfully argued the motions before and during trial and ultimately achieved a settlement of $20 million shortly before the case was scheduled to go to the jury. In approving the settlement, U.S. District Judge Kevin Castel remarked that Mr. Toll and his colleagues had "done a terrific job in presenting the case for the plaintiffs."

In Simpson v. Fireman's Fund Insurance Company (N.D.
